Excitation magnetic Wikipedia

Self excitation Modern generators with field coils are usually self-excited ; i.e., some of the power output from the rotor is used to power the field coils. The rotor iron retains a degree of residual magnetism when the generator is turned off.

Methods of Excitation Separate excitation Self excitation

A self-excited generator may fail to excite under certain field conditions as is explained in Sec. 7.10. A dc machine when used as a motor has its shunt field always separately excited as its excitation is drawn from the dc supply. Figures 7.18(b) and (c) are valid shunt and series excitation schemes for dc motors.

Self Excitation Self Excited Generator No Load of

Self Excitation: Rather than arranging a separate dc source for excitation purposes, practical generators are always excited from their own armature terminals, this method of excitation being known as Self Excitation. A Self Excitation generator with connection as shown in Fig. 7.24 is known as a shunt generator by virtue of the parallel connection of the field winding with the armature.

What is Excitation System Definition Types of

In other words, excitation system is defined as the system which is used for the production of the flux by passing current in the field winding. The excitation system is mainly classified into three types, DC excitation system, AC excitation System and static excitaton system.

Self Excitation of Generators Article about Self

Self-Excitation of Generators a kind of excitation of generators where the magnetic field of the main poles is excited by a current supplied to the windings of the main poles from the armature (rotor) winding. A self-excited generator is thus distinguished from a separately excited generator, in which the windings of the main poles receive

What is the difference between separately excited and self

This is the method of classification of DC machines on the basis of how magnetic field is produced. If the magnetic poles are energized by external source then it is called separately excited machine.
